Family Nature Summits are for people who love nature. During the day, the kids enjoy educational & adventurous activities with their peers while the adults can sign-up for guided hikes & classes of interest. There are family-oriented activities each evening. The program appeals to singles, couples, friends and families of all ages.

Originally organized by National Wildlife Federation, Family Nature Summits is continuing this 40 year old tradition and is now celebrating its 5th year as an independent, volunteer-run experience.
